A Maritime Museum Cruise in Virginia

Stick-On Solar

Mount it on a windshield, portlight or transparent hatch, and the 5-by-2-inch LightShip from Sollight will provide up to 8 hours of light for the cockpit, cabin or nav station, without draining your boat's batteries. Three silicone suction cups hold firmly to a pane of glass or plastic the manufacturer says, where the high-output solar panel can recharge the LightShip's long-lasting battery. Available in both white and red (for night vision) LEDs for $14.95. Simply Brilliant LLC, 888-557-6464; www.sollight.com.
